

So Comedy, by arrangement with Troika, presents the star of ITV's Bad Bridesmaids in...

Anna Morris

Would Like To Thank...

Glasgow International Comedy Festival

The Tron Theatre, March 20 @ 8pm

'Spot on, darkly comic characters...she's comedy gold' Huffington Post

Last year the critically acclaimed comedy actress and writer Anna Morris burst onto our screens as the face of ITV2's brand new hit comedy reality show, Bad Bridesmaid, a show that smashed ratings, almost broke Twitter and attracted various celebrity followers such as Sheridan Smith and Scott Mills.

For this year's Glasgow International Comedy Festival, Anna brings her hilarious show Would Like To Thank fresh from a hugely successful run at the Edinburgh Festival where she received a plethora of 4-star reviews and was hotly tipped as the next big character comedy star.

Anna's unique and interactive show takes place at a chaotic Woman of the Year Awards, and is hosted by her brilliant sloaney Bride character, Georgina (from her hit viral web series, Georgina's Wedding Blogs that has over 100,000 YouTube hits).

Confessional, and packed with macabre twists, tension, jeopardy and fearless interaction, four diverse contestants – each vividly brought to life by Anna - battle it out for the prize. There's a 'Mumtrepreneur' striving to have it all, a singleton activist from 'The Bitchelors' campaign group, a domestic goddess with a dark secret, and an inappropriately glamorous war correspondent. Anna has written four explosive endings, one for each winner, so each show is unique and is totally dependent on the audience vote!

“A great debut hour...beautifully crafted”

The Independent

Anna Morris is a multi-talented comedian, writer and actress. She has written for The Paul O'Grady Show, Oops TV with Justin Lee Collins, One Minute Wonders with Dave Schneider, Man Stroke Woman and Newsrevue as well as writing her own Fringe hit shows Daylords and Daylords Return with Beth Vyse, and her debut solo show Dolly Mixture, all of which had sell-out runs in London, Brighton and Glasgow. Anna has also appeared in the Jermyn Street Theatre run of the hit comedy play Death Ship 666 (★★★★★ Daily Express), where she played six characters.

Anna's TV credits include playing opposite Hugh Dennis in BBC1's Outnumbered and working with Graham Linehan on his sitcom Count Arthur Strong. Anna's big telly splash came with ITV2's Bad Bridesmaids. Anna impressed ITV so much with her improvised lines and hilarious self penned wedding song, that they gave her two episodes!
