Improvvised Comedy

“Comedy just got nasty”

The Vault Festival, Leake St, Waterloo
Wednesday to Sunday, February 18 – March 1 @ 9.30pm
Saturday & Sunday matinees @ 5:00pm

“Rapidly en route to becoming something of a cult classic, one of the most entertaining late night acts” Broadway Baby

Having built a reputation for outstanding improv around the UK, BattleActs are bringing their award-winning, multi-five-star, late-night comedy party to the VAULT festival for the second year in a row, after their complete sell-out run at last year’s VAULT.

The show sees two teams of fearless improvisers pitched against each other by a ball-busting compere. Each team attempts to prove their worth and battle it out for the ultimate prize: the audience’s respect!

Facing a terrifying voting system, a high-octane mix of seemingly impossible challenges and incredible physicality, the teams battle against invisible giants, linguistic constraints and the limits of physical pain. No two shows are the same – forfeits can see you dancing on live mousetraps, and themed nights keep everyone on their toes!

“Superior improvised comedy... Thank God for BattleActs!”
Fringe Review

BattleActs were awarded the StageWon Editor's Award in 2012, were recommended by the Independent on Sunday as part of their weekly “Top 10 Comedy Acts in the UK”, Time Out Critic's Choice and Spiked Online claimed BattleActs were 2013’s “Best Free Show”. BattleActs have previously performed at the Comedy Store, London Zoo, the Camden Roundhouse. They have recently returned from the Edinburgh Fringe, where again they had a complete sell-out run.

More praise for Battle Acts:

“You might just have to fight the crowds as they become ever more popular. Five stars” Stage Won

“Sheer madness and utter genius. Five stars.” The Public Reviews

“Improvisational comedy champions... intelligent, quick paced series of spontaneous one liners that most comedians couldn’t have written given a week.” ThreeWeeks
