

EDINBURGH FRINGE 2022: COMEDY: DEBUT SHOW

Hannah Fairweather:
Just A Normal Girl Who Enjoys Revenge

Just Up the Stairs, Just The Tonic at the Caves
4-28 (not 15) @ 2.25pm

"Hannah Fairweather mixes relaxed, confident stage presence with some killer subversive gags. Absolutely one to watch."
Joe Lycett

Award-winning Scottish comedian Hannah Fairweather (writer on Mock The Week and The Now Show) is the Taylor Swift of comedy, joking about everyone who has wronged her in the past.

In Just A Normal Girl Who Enjoys Revenge – her debut Fringe show – Hannah reveals her list of people who have done her wrong, kept in her little blue book. Hannah has taken inspiration from her favourite writer Taylor Swift to compile such a list and it includes the usual suspects - ex boyfriends, ex colleagues, ex flatmates, podcast hosts and, of course, some devout Christians she met while playing college golf in South Carolina.

Despite all this, Hannah believes you can still be the bigger person even when you choose to stand up for yourself – and that the best revenge can be found by getting the last laugh, and by finding your own definition of happiness even in the face of rejection.

'Absolutely cracking jokes, delivered with aplomb and a devilish grin.'
Lloyd Langford

Edinburgh-based Hannah Fairweather was the 2019 Rising Star New Act of the Year, and has been a semi-finalist in all the major new comedy awards including: BBC New Comedian Award, So You Think You're Funny, Leicester Square, 2Northdown and Komedia Brighton. She has been heard on Union Jack Radio, BBC Sounds, BBC Radio1 and BBC Radio4 and has written for The Now Show and Mock The Week. Hannah was selected for the Angel Edinburgh Showcase in 2019 and was including in BBCs Top Gags of the Fringe.

‘Hannah may look all sweetness and light but do not be fooled. Lurking behind that butter wouldn't melt exterior is a dark humour that will catch you beautifully unawares every time. A joy to watch and to work with.’

Rich Wilson

‘Hannah is an excellent writer of jokes who, crucially, was quick to understand my voice when I appeared on Mock The Week. She was a joy to work with, giving me more jokes than I needed and was all too accommodating with any changes I needed. If you want someone who writes excellent jokes, with an excellent turnaround, and is a joy to work with, hire Hannah. If you don't like those things, hire someone else and weep.’
